

The aims of this society are to study, record, preserve and promote the historical heritage of Castlemaine and district. Monthly meetings are held at the Former Court House (1852), 7 Goldsmith Crescent, Castlemaine at 7.30pm on the first Monday of the month (February to December). After a short business meeting, a guest speaker is generally invited to share their knowledge on a historical topic or their special talent. A monthly newsletter is issued. Contributions to the newsletter, events, and reminiscences of family histories are most welcome. Important and valuable aspects of the society are cataloguing and indexing the archival collection of documents, registers and photographs. Local and Family history requests are processed by a panel of researches. The society would welcome any assistance from interested members with these rewarding and ongoing tasks. If you are unable to come to the archive room, indexing can be completed in your own home. The archive room is open from 9am to 3pm each Tuesday. Personal researchers are welcome. Why not drop in for a cuppa; we would be delighted to see you.
